Callaway's Estate Bottled 1980 White (Johannisberg) Riesling is distinct in its flavor, aroma, and dryness. Like nearly all of our white wines, this one is made especially to go well with food and therefore is drier than most other White Rieslings from California.

This wine is made entirely from White Riesling grapes grown on their own vinifera roots at the Callaway Vineyard and two other small, neighboring vineyards. These are located less than eight miles due east of the village of Temecula/Rancho California in the south coastal mountains, 23 miles from the Pacific Ocean.

After a very long period of fermentation at 45°F, we aged this wine in our unique collection of German White Oak casks and barrels coopered especially for us in Germany. The result is a dry white wine which is rich, complex and crisp with a pleasant, long after-taste.

Please visit us and study our ways. Here you can see for yourself that from vine to customer, Callaway wines are among the most carefully nurtured wines in the world.
